WAR CLOUDS LIFTING IN WESTERN EUROPE; IDEA OF WAR SCOUTED

Conference Of Premiers Fails To Discuss Plans To Send Army Against Soviets It Is Announced.

BOLSHEVIK ARMY CONTINUES ADVANCE

Armistice Peace Conference Will Be Held at Minsk Between Contending Forces In Eastern Europe.

Paris, August 10.—The war clouds lifted today. Premier Millerand, who returned from Hythe, England, where he conferred on Sunday and Monday with Premier Lloyd George announced that the question of French mobilization for war on Russia was not mentioned at the conference.

"It would be stupid to consider such a thing," said the premier. Premier Millerand conferred throughout the morning with the heads of the French government. He will meet the full French cabinet to make a detailed report tomorrow.

"I am unable to discuss the results of the Hythe conference until after Premier Lloyd George has made his announcement to the British house of commons," continued the premier. "But at all events the treaty of Versailles guaranteeing Polish independence will be upheld."

According to the Petit Journal the allies will favor the enrollment of former allied soldiers in the Polish army as volunteers. The allies are particularly anxious to bolster up the air and artillery branches of the Polish army.

Great Britain and France have decided not to appeal to the League of Nations in behalf of Poland on account of the inability of the League to take any decisive action.

London, Aug. 10.—All thought of armed assistance to Poland by the allies is off.

Such in brief is the Russian-Polish entente situation at the culmination of several weeks of talking and conferring, originating with the Russian defeat of the advance of the Polish armies and the counter action which has brought the red armies to the gates of Warsaw.

The means of aiding Poland as reported to Premier Millerand and Lloyd George by the military advisers at Hythe consist of reimposing the blockade, supplying munitions and giving technical military advice.

Premier Lloyd George convinced the cabinet of the wisdom of not intervening in Poland until the result of the Minsk armistice-peace conference between the Poles and the Russians is known.

Meantime, the Russian army is advancing in the field. Many officials have left Warsaw and what is left of the population has been mobilized for a defense of the city.

The Russian-Polish armistice-peace conference will be held at Minsk tomorrow. The Russians apparently are bent on arriving at a satisfactory peace with Poland and the Poles are empowered by the allies to conclude a peace if they do not concede to Russia certain basic rights which the allies have stipulated.

One difficulty which the allies face was frankly admitted by a leading diplomat. The chief interest of the allies, he was frank to admit, is to prevent the extension of Bolshevism westward. But if the Russians take Warsaw and then make a generous peace with the Poles, as they have given every indication of doing, that element of Poland which is already favorable to the soviet form of government will be strengthened by those who are certain they have been abandoned by the allies. This combination, it is generally acknowledged, would be both strong enough and willing to set up a soviet government.

It is said that the soviets are willing to make more concessions than the ones they have enumerated to facilitate negotiations. The Russian who gave the information was confident the war would be ended in a few days and that Russian trade relations with Europe would be resumed shortly thereafter.

The official communique from Warsaw admitted that the Russians had cut the Danzig-Warsaw railroad at a point below Mlava. It was admitted that the Russians had taken several other towns of value, but that they were checked along the Bug and San rivers.

TURKISH TREATY SIGNED

Paris, Aug. 10.—The Turkish peace treaty was signed today at Sevres, four miles northeast of Versailles. This was the last treaty growing out of the world war.

Servia refused to sign on account of dissatisfaction over the allotment of the Turkish debt.

SIGN TREATY OF PEACE

Copenhagen, Aug. 10.—A treaty of peace between Russian and Latvia will be signed at once, said a Latvian news report from Riga today. It added that the Latvian and Russian envoys who have been in conference at Riga had reached agreements on all questions under discussion.

BANDITS SEIZE DIAMONDS AFTER SHOOTING CLERK

Daring Daylight Robbery Takes Place In Cleveland.

LOSS IS 30 THOUSAND

Two Clerks Wounded
Fatally As Revolvers
Are Discharged.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 10.—White hundreds of persons were passing Cleveland's busiest corner, East Ninth and Euclid, at 8:30 this morning on their way to work, three armed bandits entered the jewelry store of Sol Bergman, half a block away, and ordered the clerks, who were just opening the store for business, to surrender the contents of the strong boxes.

Their demand was refused and the bandits opened fire, wounding fatally, two clerks, Frank Schuck and Jerome Suskin.

They then seized diamonds estimated by the proprietor to be valued at $30,000 and drove away in a chummy roadster.

Spectators say that the robbers were negroes and that their car bore an out of town license number.

At East 12th street, the car, carrying the escaping bandits almost collided with a large truck. It then shot into a maze of traffic and all trace of it was lost.

Bergman's two stores, the East Ninth street place, where this morning's hold up occurred, and another on Prospect street, have been robbed by bandits five times within two years.

GOVERNOR ROBERTS URGES IMMEDIATE RATIFYING OF BILL

Governor Of Tennessee
Addresses Assemblymen
On Matter

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 10.—Governor Roberts in his message to the general assembly urged prompt ratification of the federal suffrage amendment.

Ratification resolutions were offered today and referred to committees which will conduct hearings. A vote is not regarded as probable before the end of the week at the earliest.

Both advocates and opponents of ratification, in statements issued after the initial session, expressed confidence in the outcome of the fight to make Tennessee the thirty-sixth state to ratify.

Anti-suffragists claim there were enough members opposed to suffrage to defeat the ratification resolution, while Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, declared that if members pledged to ratification stood by their pledges, suffrage would win.

Much interest was manifested in a caucus of Republican members of the senate and house at which leaders previously had said an attempt would be made to pledge them to vote as a unit in favor of ratification. Only a few took part, however. No action was taken toward adopting the unit plan and several of those who were present declared no attempt was made to pledge the members to vote favorably on the ratification resolutions.

FINE VICTORY FOR NAVY SAYS MANNIX

London, Aug. 10.—Archbishop Daniel J. Mannix, of Melbourne, who was taken from the liner Baltic by a British destroyer and landed at Penzance to forestall his contemplated visit to Ireland, arrived from Penzance this morning.

"That was probably the finest victory for the British navy since the battle of Jutland," declared the archbishop. He denied that any political significance could be attached to his desire to visit Ireland his old home.

HEAVY VOTE EXPECTED

East Liverpool, August 10.—Predictions were made here that 10,000 Republican and Democratic votes would be cast in Columbiana County in Tuesday's primaries. Interest in fights for place on the Republican County ticket and the submission of municipal and school district issues is expected to attract the voters to the polls.

EMPLOYEES OF EXPRESS COMPANY GET BIG RAISE

Total Wage Increase To Workers In American Railway
Express Company Reach Thirty Million Dollars.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Increases in wages to employees of the American Railway Express company which will total approximately $30,000,000 a year were announced by the railway labor board here today. About 75,000 persons will participate in the award.

The raise is a flat addition of 16 cents an hour to the pay of all employees who come under the heading of "employees and subordinate officials" within the meaning of the transportation act. The unions had demanded 25 cents an hour. Union officials, waiting in Chicago for the announcement of the award, declared after a preliminary examination of the announcement the award would be accepted for the present at least. It will later be submitted to the membership of the four organizations affected through a referendum.

The four unions affected are the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees; the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, chauffeurs, stablemen and helpers of America; the Railway Express Drivers, chauffeurs, and conductors, local No. 720, Chicago, Illinois; and the Order of Railway Expressmen.

The increases are effective as of May 1, 1920, and are to be paid to all who are in the service at that time. Those who have entered the service since that date can collect as from the date of their employment.

The classes of employees affected are listed as follows:
1—Agents, storekeepers, assistant storekeepers, chief clerks, foremen, sub-foremen, and other supervisory forces.
2—Clerks.
3—Wagon, automobile stable, garage, platform service employees.
4—Messengers and helpers, messengers handling baggage and helpers guards and other train service employees.
5—All other employees except those coming under the provisions of the agreement of the United States railroad administration and the federated shop crafts, dated September 20, 1919.

The message was sent to F. E. Scooby, to be read at the Republican state convention at Dallas. The senator added:

"I recently sensed the inspiring confidence of Texans in the capacity of our republic to work out a great American destiny, and I firmly believe that the interests of your great state are those of our common country, which the Republican party aims to preserve and promote. It will be fine to know that a strong and harmonious Republican organization has been effected to give voice and influence to the party sentiment in Texas and add to the force of our appeal to the confidence of all the American people."

Senator Harding conferred with James B. Reynolds, former secretary of the Republican national committee, and James Weldon Johnson of New York, field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Campaign subjects are to be taken up at a conference with Will H. Hays, the campaign chairman, and Harry M. Daugherty this afternoon. Possible speaking engagements for the candidate away from Marion will be discussed.

Would Bar Ammunition.

Berlin, Aug. 10.—A proclamation issued by the Social Democrats, Independents and Spartacists called on German workers to prepare for action in event the allies attempt to transport munitions through Germany to Poland.

PROSECUTION NOW THREATENED AGAINST ALL PROFITEERING

Orders Sent To All Local Boards By John Pfeifer.

Columbus, Aug. 10.—John Pfeifer, fair price commissioner, in an order to all county fair price commissions in Ohio threatens criminal prosecution of manufacturers and producers of foodstuffs, shoes or clothing, undertaking to increase the price of any article without first obtaining approval of the government.

"Representing 5,000,000 consumers in the state of Ohio, we hereby notify all manufacturers and producers that are marketing food commodities, shoes and clothing in this state, that we positively will not allow any increase in price of necessities until facts proving the necessity for such increases are presented to us and meet with our approval," the order read.

Charging that dealers in men's furnishings and clothing had formed a "well laid plan" and "are conducting a campaign of propaganda seemingly designed to hold up prices, and to further increase prices if possible," a statement indicated the commissioner will fight the high price issue out before the public.

To make the order effective the commissioners directed county commissions to obtain the "hearty support and co-operation of all dealers in food commodities, such as retail grocers, butchers and fish dealers. Have shoe dealers and retail clothing merchants report to this office any increase in the price of necessities from the manufacturers, the jobbers or commission men in and out of this state that they may have dealings with, and we will have same investigated by the department of justice."

LARGE TURNOUT OF VOTERS OVER STATE EXPECTED

About 400,000 Voters Of the State Will Cast Ballot
Is Estimate.

INTEREST IN 2 FIGHTS

Contests For Republican
Senatorial and Gubernatorial Draw Interest

Columbus, O., Aug. 10.—About 400,000 Ohio voters, it is estimated, today are taking part in the statewide primaries which mark the close of one of the hottest pre-primary campaigns waged in the Buckeye state.

Political experts estimate that about 100,000 Democrats and 300,000 Republicans will have visited the polls throughout Ohio before closing this evening. This difference in strength is attributed, in part, to absence of serious opposition among the Democratic candidates for the major offices.

Candidates for governor, United States senator and congressman and for state, judicial and county offices are being voted for.

Voters in numerous municipalities and other taxing districts, also, are passing upon pleas for bond issues for public improvements and schools. In many of the state's political subdivisions, the question is being put up to the voters of placing sinking fund and interest charges on outstanding bonds outside limitations of the Smith one per cent tax law for the purpose of affording financial relief to municipalities and school districts.

Chief interest in the pre-primary campaign centered in the three-cornered contests for the Republican nominations. Statements predicting victory have been issued from the headquarters of the various candidates.

The Republican senatorial candidates are: Walter F. Brown, Toledo; State Supreme Judge R. M. Wamseller, Akron, and former governor, Frank B. Willis, Delaware. Former Congressman Ralph D. Cole, Findlay; Congressman Roscoe C. McCullough, Canton, and former mayor Harry L. Davis, Cleveland, are the Republican gubernatorial candidates. The vigorous contest among the Republican candidates is expected to bring out a relatively heavy vote today in the larger cities.

This situation, coupled with the outlook that weather conditions may conduce to rural voting and uniformly heavy voting throughout the state, affords the basis for the prediction that the total vote cast today, in all probability, will set up a new record in Ohio for primary voting.

FAIR PRIMARY VOTE AT LOCAL POLLS IS EARLY INDICATION

Republicans Outnumber
Democrats During Morning.

A good primary vote at local polling places was indicated by the balloting Tuesday morning in all up-town precincts.

As usual but few Democrats were registered at the polls during the morning, and the bulk of the votes were Republican. In Xenia township south voting place, not a single Democrat had been voted up, until one o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The vote was said to be about normal for a county and state primary. The electioneering was mild if persistent. Challengers in each voting place put a new light on the election. They were placed by the Gowdy-Marshall faction. The principal fight in this county is for central committee, this faction and the Schmidt faction both trying to control the central committee.

The vote in the uptown precincts at one o'clock was as follows:

	Rep. Dem.
Precinct C	105 9
Precinct D	207 6
Precinct E	113 0
Precinct F	109 0
Xenia Twp. North	109 6
Xenia Twp. South	93 0

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

By Edith Moriarty

Miss Harriet May Mills, Syracuse, at night in the schoolhouse and those intending to vote were listening to a eulogy upon the only person, a man who has long been an active suffrage worker, reformer and lecturer said upon being notified of her nomination: "Of course I am proud to have been suggested for secretary of state. What woman would not be?"

Miss Mills, a woman slender and graceful in carriage with dark blue eyes and iron gray hair is an interesting figure in the politics of today. Her greatest treasure is her mother, who is ninety-four years old and who was a leader in the women's cause more than half a century ago. Her next is her own work for sufficiency. She is a graduate of Cornell University and has been a prominent figure in the social literary and religious life of Syracuse for thirty years.

"I have never sought public office," she stated, "but when the Democrats began to talk about placing a woman on the state ticket and hinted that I might be chosen I was glad to assent largely because I want a chance to demonstrate to the people of the country that a woman can do a full day's work in almost any important office to which she is chosen."

As to her position on the wet and dry questions she has always been a prohibitionist and now calls herself a constitutional dry saying:

"Prohibition should be accepted as a settled fact and the minds of the people should be turned to other unsettled political problems."

"There are many things to take up—schools, charitable institutions and reform, the prevention of cruelty to children and prevention of overworking women and children in the factories are some of them. I am interested in every one of these matters, and have been for years."

"I want a CALORIC before I clean house again"

Hundreds of thousands of women, every spring and fall, must face the drudgery of house-cleaning.

They know that heating stoves and pipe furnaces fill their homes with dirt, and smoke up the curtains and wall paper, and they want to get rid of these out-of-date methods.

The patented Caloric Pipeless Furnace keeps the fuel, kindling and ashes in the basement—and thereby largely eliminates house-cleaning. With the Caloric, rugs, draperies, wall papers, stay bright and fresh a remarkably long time.

We sell the Caloric on the basis of "Satisfaction or money back." A splendid time to get a Caloric is just before you clean house. The next best time is just after you clean house, so that your house may stay clean.

See us at once and learn why over 100,000 families in every state in the Union, prefer the Caloric to any other method of heating.

WE DON'T WANT THE OLD DAYS OF COMMON DRUNKENNESS BACK AGAIN.

Everybody knows that alcohol is intoxicating, just to the extent that it is taken into the system, and that men can get drunk just as readily on three per cent beer as on six per cent beer, if they drink twice as much. It is because men want to get drunk, or because they want to make money by getting other men drunk, that they advocate the restoration of wine and beer. It is because they want, by subterfuge and deception and chicanery, to get back the old days of common drunkenness, they are trying to overthrow the plain meaning of Eighteenth Amendment.

Let every man and woman in this nation who has a heart larger and better than a maggot, and honesty and principle above the grade of a common felon, stand for the enforcement of this amendment, and for the election of men in sympathy with sobriety and law and order.

The sale of wine and beer, of any strength, defined by some dishonest law as non-intoxicating would bring back the saloon with all its degrading influence, and make it open even to children and on seven days of the week, to brand our nation as a people with no honest regard for our own National Constitution, and with no sense of moral obligation to be honorable or truthful.

The Workhouse at Cincinnati, which was in earlier days, before prohibition, a flourishing institution, with hundreds of inmates, has been entirely abandoned, and its comparatively few inhabitants transferred to the county jail to be boarded there. This is so forceful and clear a commentary on the good effects of prohibition that all can understand it. None but the abject and degenerate could wish the wretched liquor business back.

ALL CONGRESSMEN AND SENATORS TO BE "BLACK-LISTED."

Scarcely a member of the present Congress is to be free from attack by class groups for voting contrary to their wishes on legislation in their interests. The "blacklist" of various organizations urging the defeat of members who "voted against our interests" include in one degree or another virtually every senator and representative. There is reason to believe that candidates for seats held by the members in disfavor stand no chance of pleasing every one, so that if the several active propagandists have their way hardly any one can be elected in November.

The American Federation of Labor has adopted the familiar methods of the Anti-Saloon League. It has sent to labor organizations throughout the nation the voting records of senators and representatives and is urging that open antagonism to such men be started at once. The Anti-Saloon League and other prohibition groups are prepared to fight hard against any man who does not hold the Volstead act as sacred beyond hint of modification. The "black-list" of each is imposing in the matter of length.

These lists, taken along with the names of members "in bad" with the women because of anti-suffrage records; with the Friends of Irish Freedom because of votes on questions bearing upon the freedom of Ireland, and with the farmers' organizations for advocacy of the universal military training and the Esch-Cummings railroad law, and very few members will be left free of organized opposition in their districts.

GOVERNOR COX'S HUGE STRADDLE.

In his speech of acceptance, which was remarkable for the number of words used to say nothing, Governor Cox performed a feat in straddling that is without a parallel. Analysis of every statement reveals an expert juggling of words and phrases that provides fine reading but does not enlighten the reader as to the Democratic nominee's stand on a single issue of this campaign and is entirely incongruous coming from a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people.

Such phrases as "we must put civilization's house in order," which seemed to be the keynote—if the speech can be said to have had a keynote—are so meaningless that no intelligent person will wonder at the lack of enthusiasm over the speech even within Democratic ranks.

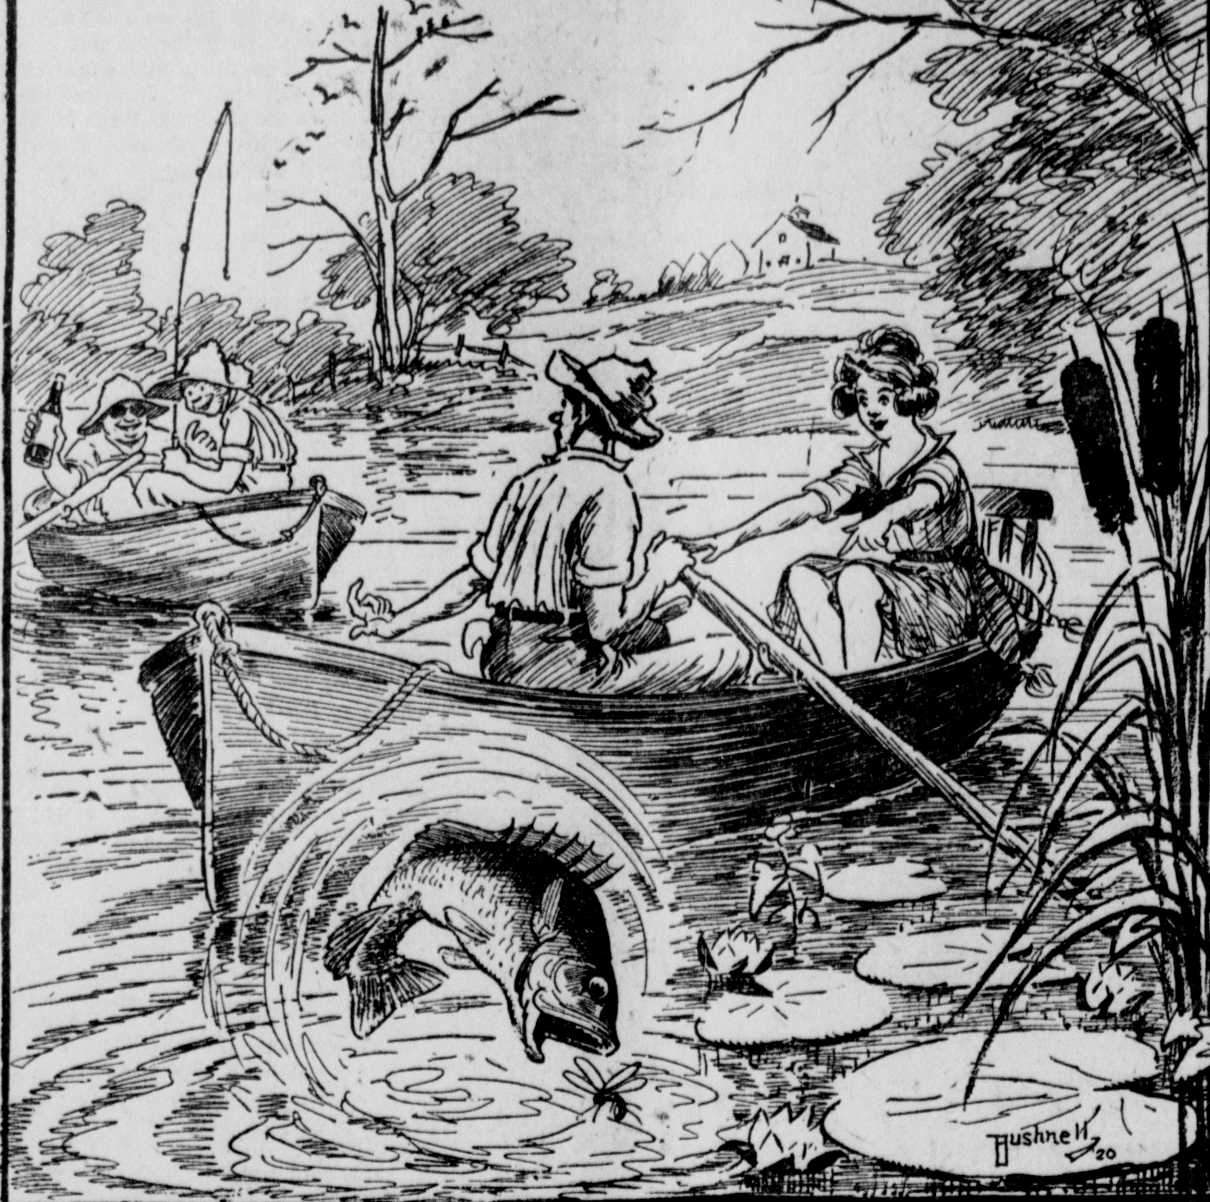

What a contrast, for instance, is the Democratic candidate's support of "the stand taken in the platform" on the League of Nations question and the entire treaty to Mr. Harding's declaration on this issue in his speech of acceptance. Mr. Harding said: "No surrender of rights to a world council or its military alliance, no assumed mandatory, however appealing, ever shall summon the sons of this republic to war. Their supreme sacrifice shall only be asked for America and its call of honor. There is a sanctity in that right which we will not delegate."

Clear-cut and to the point, this expresses the attitude of 90 per cent of Americans.

Laudatory phrases about the Democratic record in the war with war contract scandals and extravagant waste of the people's money still fresh in the public mind, will not make votes for the Democratic ticket. Nor will fine-sounding compliments to Wilson who is responsible for keeping this country in a state of war, halting reconstruction, hindering business and making relief from the high cost of living impossible.

FIVE ADDRESSES ARE DELIVERED ON SECOND DAY OF CONFERENCE

The fifth annual Xenia Bible Conference is on and is attracting the attention of visitors from far and near. Five addresses were delivered Monday all pertaining to the interests of the Kingdom in the individual and National life. Dr. Walker who for a number of years was the Chief Assistant to the great Evangelist, Dr. William A. Sunday and during the past year connected with the Inter-Church World Movement, brought a timely message on the subject "The problems which the church must face in this day of reconstruction. He mentioned seven, namely: The problem of the Negro; The Migrant; The Mexican Problem; The problem of the Orientals; The New American; The problem of the Underpaid Teachers and Preachers and the Industrial problem.

The solution suggested was; 1st, Spiritual Regeneration; 2nd, Churches must get together; 3rd, The church must have the vision of the field in which she is located; 4th, Preachers shall awake to the situation.

The Vesper hour is being conducted by Dr. Russell in which he is giving a great exposition of Romans 10:1-10.

The last address of the day was by Mrs. Richards of national fame in regard to the temperance question. She showed the benefits derived from the abolition of the saloon in the United States and the goal for which each one should strive, viz, "World Prohibition." Addresses will be delivered each evening. Dr. Harris speaks tonight; Congressman Kelly, Wednesday evening; Dr. LaRue, Thursday evening. It is probable that Honorable S. D. Fess will address the Conference Friday evening and Congressman H. W. Temple on Saturday evening.

WAR CLOUDS GATHER IN POLITICAL SKY OF PRECINCT 'G'

Arrested on two separate charges of violation of the election laws, William Shields, colored, presiding judge in Precinct G, was arraigned before Police Judge E. Dawson Smith Tuesday morning and his hearing set for Saturday morning at nine o'clock.

Bond in the sum of $300 on each charge was fixed by Judge Smith and furnished by H. E. Schmidt and Shields immediately returned to the polls.

The affidavits are said to have grown out of the fight between the Gowdy-Marshall and Schmidt-Shoup factions for control of Precinct G in the Republican central committee. Shields is a Schmidt-Shoup candidate for central committeeman in that precinct while Philip Thomas, of the Gowdy-Marshall faction is opposing him.

The first affidavit was filed by Ephraim Greenway, colored, challenger for the Gowdy-Marshall faction in the precinct polls, who alleged that as the polls opened up Shields went into the booth with William Lawrence, colored, and assisted him in marking his ballot. The action, it is claimed was done on the statement that Lawrence was blind.

According to the law in case a voter does not have all the faculties required for voting, one representative of each side is to go in the booth with him and assist him in marking the ballot. Greenway asserted that Lawrence is perfectly able to see to mark his own ballot, but that Shields entered the booth with him, helped him and assisted Lawrence in marking his ballot.

Before an arrest was made on the warrant on this affidavit, a second affidavit was filed by Jacob Wilson, colored, a soldier receiving government treatment at the Washington hospital. Wilson declared that Shields refused to permit him to vote and also refused to permit him to be sworn in as to his eligibility to cast his ballot. It is alleged in the affidavit that Shields told Wilson he could vote if he would not vote for central committeeman. Wilson resented the action of the presiding judge and immediately swore out the affidavit before Police Judge E. Dawson Smith.

Patrolman Ed. Wilkins arrested Shields at the polls and walked with him to Police Headquarters as Shields refused to ride in the auto, mobile of Attorney Roy Marshall, who brought the officer to the scene. The voting place was closed during the time the presiding judge was taken into court.

H. E. Schmidt, bondsman for Shields in the police court before the arrival of the prisoner and his Attorney Judge Marcus Shoup was present to fix up the papers to secure an immediate release of the prisoner. Attorney R. L. Gowdy, of the Gowdy-Marshall faction was in court at the time.

"If you people are investigating these affidavits, we want to know it," said Judge Shoup.

"You know it now," said Mr. Gowdy.

"We'll furnish bond for both charges now," said Judge Shoup. "If not I suppose you will have Shields in court every few minutes all day."

"If there are any further violations of the law, that will be the case," said Mr. Gowdy. "If everything is run according to law there will be no more trouble. If not, we will continue to file charges against him. The law says the presiding judge shall take the oath of any voter whose eligibility to vote is questioned."

"If he is breaking the law, I do not uphold him any more than you do," replied Judge Shoup.

HERBERT C. HOOVER

August 10, 1874

Herbert Clark Hoover, engineer, United States Food Administrator, and recent Presidential candidate was born in West Branch, Iowa, 46 years ago today. He took his degree as mining engineer at Leland Stanford University when he was 21 and for some years was a mining engineer in Nevada and California.

He then went to western Australia as chief of a mining staff for a large firm and a few years later was chief engineer of the Chinese Imperial bureau of Mines. In this work he did extensive exploration in the interior of China, and took part in the defence of Tientsin during the Boxer disturbance 20 years ago. His work then carried him almost all over the world, and he settled finally in London.

At the very beginning of the World War he was made chairman of the American Relief Commission and a year later head of the Commission for the Relief of Belgium. His work in getting food to Belgium and distributing it properly so as to save an entire nation from starvation was so wonderfully done that he was the natural person to choose as head of the Food Administration when America entered the war.

He is possibly the only American figure who has not come in for some criticism in Europe when bickering

COBURN'S MINSTRELS DR. W.S. SCARBOROUGH PLEASE AUDIENCE TO TAKE PART IN G.O.P. CAMPAIGN IN EAST

There was only one thing the matter with Joe Coburn's big minstrel show which played at the Opera House under the management of C. L. McClellan Monday night.

And that was that the performance did not last long enough to satisfy the audience that packed the theater. For at 11 o'clock when the final curtain rung down it was fully two minutes before any one moved to go home.

Coburn and his premier end man Charley Gano came back this year their twenty-first season, with a much better production than ever before which is quite a compliment in itself. There are those who say the minstrel man is intending ranking his performance with Fields and the others in the big towns and well he might. Scenery and costuming was bright, new and pretty, and it seems remarkable that so many excellent voices have been banded together.

Besides the inimitable Charley Gano, Rodda Jordan is still doing blackface and specialties, while the Turner Brothers, new arrivals, are acrobatic and dancing fools. Ed. C. Clifford brother of the famous Billy from Urbana is interlocutor and lend his voice to the vocal offerings and the piece this year presents vaudeville of a high order and a Chinese fantasy rife with comedy, following the usual old-fashioned circle.

Dr. W. S. Scarborough has received and accepted an invitation from the National Republican Committee to take part in the campaign from September 1 till the close in November. He leaves this week for New York for a conference by appointment with the Negro editors of that city. While there he will attend the convention of the Universal Negro Improvement Association and will also visit the Business Men's League in Philadelphia as its guest on invitation of Dr. Emmett Scott, Secretary of the League. He will be absent ten days.

The latter part of August Dr. Scarborough will report to Republican Headquarters in Chicago for instructions and will then proceed in the campaign for the election of Harding and Coolidge. Dr. Scarborough will still make his home here.

I SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Finally was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lowell, Mass.—"I was all run down and had an awful pain in my right side, was persistently constipated and had very dizzy spells. I suffered for three years and was perfectly miserable until a friend was telling me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it a wonderful medicine. I can now do twice as much work and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other women. You can use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. M. THEALL BESSEY, 46 Chestnut St., Lowell, Mass.

Why women will continue to suffer so long is more than we can understand, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound!

For forty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Tate has resigned his position as village clerk. Glenn Edwards, of Dayton, spent a few days of the past week with relatives here. Sylvester Anthony, of Springfield, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anthony. Jesse Weaver played with the Sabing ball team Sunday. The Bobtown reunion will occur at the usual place (the school house) on Saturday, August 21st. All former teachers, pupils and the public in general are invited to attend. James Turner, of Springfield, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Turner. Theodore Peppers was unable to be at the store Monday on account of illness. James Finley spent Saturday evening and Sunday home with his father J. T. Finley, and his brother, Maurice Finley. Mrs. Aya Atkins, of Detroit, is visiting her mother, Mrs. C. A. Haynes. The home team, with a strong lineup for the occasion, went after the star team of Dayton, by whom they were defeated a few weeks ago, and defeated them in a fast, exciting game by a score of 8 to 6. The Sunday game, however, resulted in a defeat of the local boys by a score of 4 to 2, their opponents being a strong team from Xenia. The present standing of home club is, 7 games won and 2 lost. Next Saturday the homers will play a Dayton team.

Woman Surprises Her Friends

After a spell of typhoid fever 7 years ago I began to suffer from indigestion and gas in my stomach and colic attacks. This gradually became so bad that my doctor advised an operation for gall stones. A friend advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy which I did with splendid results. My friends were astonished at my rapid improvement. I have no more bloating and can eat anything I wish. It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Sayre & Hemphill's, and druggists everywhere.

MARKET AND FINANCIAL NEWS

Readjustment to a general peace-time basis is definitely started and will continue with sporadic interruptions, judging from all present indications. The general trend of prices has been decidedly downward. The price of foodstuffs and cotton has declined, partly in sympathy with other prices and partly as the result of underlying conditions. Grain dropped, it was a year ago. Farm products but the farmer is not the "root" as are not the first to slump, and unless there is an accompanying drop of wages, construction costs and profits—which seems not unlikely, may be expected to regain at least a portion of their lost ground. If the farmer is to get less for his crops this fall, he will assuredly pay less for many necessary articles.

One leading bank has the following to say on the subject of farm prices: "It seems as probable the farmer must accept a gradual reduction in the prices of his products, as Europe becomes more self-sufficient, some impairment of his purchasing power will result and he will buy less of the products of other industries unless these are correspondingly cheaper. It will be useless for the producers in other industries to insist they shall have the same money income if the great agricultural population has less."

Farm prices are the foundation of the price structure, determining alike the cost of living to labor in the cities and the prosperity of retail trade, upon which depends the prosperity of industry at large and the size of wages. Business men rely upon the season's crop yields to supply the buying power for a very healthy volume of retail trade this coming fall. The farmer is the most conspicuous prospective buyer. July exports of wheat and flour, 80 per cent greater than last year, have helped to liquidate the old crop surplus and prepare the way for reviving markets and general food times.

Of all factors in the woolen industry the grower of raw wool has suffered most by reason of the present stagnant market. The seemingly inordinate greed of speculators manufacturers, and labor forced prices to points beyond endurance.

MARKET TREND

STOCK

Apart from money, business reaction and unfavorable developments on the continent of Europe have been the overshadowing influence in the stock market. Despite occasional rallies, the list can hardly stage a material recovery while the price trend is so generally downward and turmoil in industry is practiced. The Bolshevik advance through Poland and acute weakness in exchange (both supplied bear ammunition of high caliber. The question naturally arises: If the market discounted present liquidation in its slump of six months ago, what further reaction in general is it now discounting? The present is unquestionably a good time to buy solid investment issues, possessing not merely accumulated assets, but undisputed earning power.

GRAIN

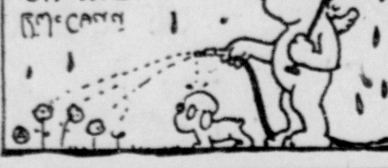

Grains are not immune to the world-wide readjustment which has depressed all business and started prices down grade. Nevertheless export demand, based upon world demand for wheat, which is the prime factor in determining grain prices, gives a suggestion of potential size, continuity that is not reassured to the bears. The movement marketword is still restricted by an insufficient car supply, although the situation at this point has improved greatly. The corn movement has been large, but will grow smaller as wheat absorbs an increasing percentage of available box cars. Arrivals are adequate to present requirements. Looking into the future, no unprejudiced observer expects the bottom to drop out of the grain market as predictions of $1.50 wheat recently would signify.

BRINGING UP FATHER BY George McManus

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

Weather cannot change my plans. Cold and rainy though it be I must make my garden grow. Though the skies descend on me.

LIVESTOCK

The recent break in corn stimulated interest in corn feeding, but little, as growers still smart from their punishment during the early part of the year. Good corn-fed cattle continue scarce. Should the corn market work permanently lower, the demand for feeder cattle would undoubtedly revive. Just now the future of the cattle industry is dark. Many pastures are vacant and growers, stung by loss, are disposing of their herds. The credit stringency is a particular impediment. Swine trade is erratic, due to periodic heavy runs. Large provision stocks are a depressing factor. A liberal run of new crop lambs has glutted the market from time to time. Sheep are relatively scarce and hence are better able to hold their own.

The public has refused to buy. As a result of this refusal and the accumulation of erroneous stocks of raw wool during and since the war, the new clip finds no market and the mills are shutting down. No one knows when the demand will resume, but sooner or later the tide of buying, held in leash, will rapidly consume even present heavy stocks and put the wool market on a normal basis in keeping with the position of general prices.

An era of falling prices for agricultural products would involve a decline in land values, most conspicuous in sections where inflation has been most pronounced. The average farm might lose a considerable part of the most fertile years' appreciation. On the other hand, a back-to-the-farm movement may set in and increase the number of buyers. The farmer can find consolation in the fact that increased valuation never added one dollar to the productivity of a farm. The farmer, like the successful stock gambler, can realize his "paper profits" only when he liquidates his holdings. A comparatively few farmers can liquidate, but were all to do so, the bottom of the market would drop out of sight.

HOUSES FALL; 7 HURT

Dallas, August 10—Seven persons were injured, two seriously in the collapse of two buildings yesterday. The buildings, two-story and three-story structures were undergoing repairs at the time. The collapse came without warning, but a score of persons in the buildings at the time escaped injury.

FOR THE TABLE

Harvard Beets—Cook twelve small beets until soft. Dice or slice into a serving dish. Pour over them a sauce made of one-half cup sugar, one-half tablespoon cornstarch, one-half cup vinegar. Boil together five minutes. Add one and one-half tablespoons butter to hot mixture. Then, when allowed to stand to absorb the sauce are a splendid relish, invaluable to a bride who has, as yet, no "canned cupboard."

Fruit Salad—One orange, one banana, one apple, one-half cup pineapple (home canned). Cut in small pieces and mix; strain pineapple juice and add one tablespoon of dissolved gelatin; sweeten to taste and pour over the fruit. When hard put grated coconut or chopped nuts over. Serve with whipped cream.

Summer Squash—Instead of peeling and boiling white squash, cut it in sections, remove the seeds and leave the peel on, and bake it in the oven. Baste with butter or sweet drippings, and sprinkle with pepper, salt and chopped parsley before serving. To boil it, peel, remove the seeds, cut in medium-sized pieces, barely cover it with boiling water, and boil until tender. Dry it thoroughly. Mash it through a colander; add a large lump of butter, pepper and salt, and serve. It will require about twenty minutes to boil.

JELLY HINTS

Test for Pectin—If the pectin is less than three-fourths of the whole volume of juice, use less sugar. If the pectin is less than one-half, add some form of pectin to make the jelly, or can the juice for use as a beverage or for flavoring.

When to Add Sugar—If the sugar is added at the first there is less danger of having the sugar crystallize out. Another method is to cook the juice and add the sugar near the end of the process. Possibly the safest way is to add the sugar soon after the juice boils. Although adding the cold sugar stops the boiling for a short time, there is not enough gain in time or of heating the sugar. Add the sugar gradually to the boiling juice and stir until it is dissolved.

Cooking the Jelly—The juice for jelly should not be allowed to simmer. The cooking should be finished as soon as possible. Long cooking has a tendency to give the finished product a dark color, and the pectin loses some of its jelly making power.

When the Jelly is Done—Take a small amount of the juice in the spoon and cool it by moving the spoon gently in the air and then allowing the juice to drop over the edge of the spoon.

At first it will run off like a syrup, then as it cooks the drops will become heavier and when the drops run together and slide off in a flake, the jelly is finished and should be removed at once.

Skimming while cooking the juice is wasteful. After a good jelly test is obtained and the jelly removed from the fire, the entire scum may be removed before putting it in the glasses.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

AUNT SUSAN TELLS A STORY

"Oh, look Aunt Susan, I found it in the attic! May I use it?" I exclaimed as I staggered under my heavy load.

"You shouldn't have carried it down, Zena. Why didn't you call me," she said as I put the typewriter on the table, breathing hard as I did so.

"I'm all right! I was so excited when I found it. Where did you get a typewriter, Aunt Susan?"

"A young man boarded with me a long time ago. He left it and never sent for it. In fact, I never heard from him after he left."

"How long ago was that Susan?"

Mother asked.

"About four years."

"Then I may use it," I exclaimed.

"Certainly! Use it all you want to. I am sure the young man would not object. I believe something must have happened to him. He was a writer—a story writer—and used the machine all day long some days. Then too, he was here a long time, and seemed rather fond of me. I think he would have written me if he was still alive."

"Did he owe you anything?" Mother asked, while I examined the typewriter.

Aunt Susan flushed. The dear old soul was not going to tell us that the machine had been the only thing the young man had left her for a debt of months. But Mother worried out of her. It seemed that the young man—she said he was about 22 or 23—would write feverishly for weeks send his story off and then it would come back.

"He sold one or two while he was with me. But he didn't get much for them. The editors sent him nice little notes, most of them printed, saying his story wasn't just what they wanted but they would be glad to hear from him again. It would have been kinder had they told him he couldn't write, and that he had better choose some other occupation. Of course I didn't know anything about writing stories, but those editors did and I think it was wrong to encourage the poor fellow."

I had listened rather impatiently to Aunt Susan's story of the young story writer. I wanted to try to write myself, not stories, but to learn to use the machine. All my desire to be in some private office came back to me. It is no wonder I was excited at finding the typewriter.

Only the day before the doctor had asked me many questions as to what I did, and so on. He had told me that I could not lift trays; in fact that I must not lift anything, or exert myself in that way, for a long time.

"I doubt if you will ever be able to do the work you have been doing again."

I had said nothing of this to either Mother or Aunt Susan and had Susan had made mine while I was felt sure he was right as any exertion brought a sharp pain with it. But I also knew that I had to earn my own living, and that I must one time make a home for Mother, Aunt Susan was older than she, and if any thing happened to her, Mother would have no home.

When I found the typewriter a rush of hope swept over me, I would learn to use it. I would commence that very day. Then when I went back I would take it with me or hire one, and help in the restaurant until I was competent then get a position in an office where I would not be on my feet all day or be obliged to lift anything heavy.

"Will you carry it to my room, Mother?" I asked. "I shall drive you and Aunt Susan wild if I stay here. I am going to start right away learning to use it."

"But how can you? You know nothing about it."

"I'll pick it out at first with one finger like I used to pick out pieces on the piano when I was supposed to be practicing exercises," I retorted happily.

"Why don't you write to the firm that makes them and ask if they haven't some sort of instruction book?" practical Aunt Susan asked.

I will! Thank you for the suggestion! I replied as I followed Mother with the typewriter to the room Aunt Susan had made mine while I was
